Best practices:

This year the 7th InTsikt, International Symposium on Information and Communication Technologies – had a main theme - Smart City, and the symposium received technical co-sponsorship from two IEEE sections: IEEE Slovenia Section and IEEE Bosnia and Herzegovina Section. The chairs of both Sections addressed all participants and welcomed an opportunity to promote and share the IEEE membership values, especially among industry participants. The IEEE tagline Advancing Technology for Humanity resonated with the messages of other speakers addressing how smart technology can affect and improve our everyday life.
