Sponsoring conferences

- Sections can sponsor a conference. They need to sign a Memorandum of Understanding with the other parties.
- The decision to sponsor must be recorded in the Section's meeting minutes and the application for sponsorship must be carefully handled to make sure that the conference is a success and the quality is high.
- It is important for Sections to be aware that they should be participants in a conference to gauge quality. Note that typically Proceedings papers will be entered in IEEEXplore.
- If Sections need advice, they can contact the Region 8 Conference Coordinator.

4. Running a Section successfully
What a Section chair should do

- Be a role model
- Inspire and mobilize people
- Find future leaders
- Run the Section
- Organize Administrative meetings
- Organize other meetings
  - Professional, Technical, Non technical (including social)
- Report officers – Very important
  - This way they receive emails, materials etc
Why and how do I report a change of Officers and/or election results?

- All officers shall be elected annually. The term of office will date from 1 January through 31 December. The officer should not serve in the current Section officer position for more than four consecutive years or for more than six years in total. [This is in compliance with the new MGA Operations Manual, Section 9.4.F.7.]

- It is very important that each Section/Chapter report their change of Officers/volunteers as soon as possible. This will ensure that the IEEE Geographic Roster will be updated and that the individual will have access to SAMIEEE, vTools, and Entity Web Hosting services provided by IEEE MGA.

vTools are developed and made possible by IEEE volunteers. The toolbox simplifies administration by offering web based software, reduces time spent managing activities, and assists in member development.

vTools is sponsored by IEEE Membership and Geographic Activities (MGA). MGA serves the needs of IEEE members by supporting IEEE Sections, Chapters, and Branches and is responsible for IEEE membership, and member development.

vTools toolkit contains tools in various phases of development, from production, to pilots, to active development:

- vTools.Metings - tool for managing section and chapter meetings. Officers can create meeting announcements with no dependence on webmaster availability and show them on your website. Members and the public may see and register for the upcoming meetings. Visit project WIKI page for more information or click here to use the tool.

- vTools.WebInABox - wizard to assist officers generate simple section websites in an automated fashion with no dependence on webmaster availability. Visit project WIKI page for more information or click here to use the tool.

- vTools.Voting - tool to allow members submit votes in their Section officer elections online (please note that this is different from the general IEEE elections). Visit project WIKI page for more information or click here to use the tool.

The IEEE Center for Leadership Excellence (CLE) serves as the repository for all leadership training material within IEEE to ensure IEEE keeps pace with its evolving organization.

Additionally, it will meet the needs of IEEE volunteer leadership by providing materials that will enable volunteers to accomplish their jobs efficiently and effectively, thus allowing them to spend more time ensuring that members are engaged in IEEE activities so that IEEE member satisfaction and relevance continue to grow.
The IEEE CLE makes information easily available with a Learning Library in key areas of education and training. This Library will be updated regularly with new courses as they become available.

Volunteers will now benefit from having access to full course material for their positions which will provide a one place to go for all their training needs. This includes a Quick Start module to help come up to speed during their first 30 days in their position, a job description for their role, time line of key dates and recommended training modules that support the particular aspect of their role.

6. Rules of order during Region 8 Committee meetings
Rules of order

Rules of order, also known as standing orders or rules of procedure, are the written rules of parliamentary procedure adopted by a deliberative assembly, which detail the processes used by the body to make decisions.

IEEE Bylaws I-300. Management

Robert's Rules of Order shall be used to conduct business at meetings of the IEEE Board of Directors, Major Boards, Standing Committees and other organizational units of the IEEE unless other rules of procedure are specified in the Not-For-Profit Corporation Law of the State of New York, the IEEE Certificate of Incorporation, the IEEE Constitution, these Bylaws, the IEEE Policies, resolutions of the IEEE Board of Directors, or the applicable governing documents of those organizational units provided such organizational documents are not in conflict with any of the foregoing.
Origins

- Loosely modelled after rules used in the United States House of Representatives.

- Robert was an active member of several organizations. To help simplify and organise meetings, he decided to write a manual that would enable organizations to adopt a parliamentary procedure.
Rules of order in R8 Committee

- All members of the Committee have equal rights to participate and take part in debate, except that non-voting members do not have the right to vote.

- Substantial parts of a meeting are organised in an informal way.

- Formal parts of meetings are normally conducted in accordance with Robert’s Rules.
  - Robert’s Rules are not well known in the countries of Region 8, it cannot be assumed that the R8 Committee members have more than a superficial familiarity with these rules, and this must be allowed for in the conduct of the meetings.

- The Chair should enable an orderly debate to take place on all issues, and allow equal and fair rights to all members of the Committee.

- During formal debates, the Chair must take a neutral position and may only vote when his/her vote may change the outcome.
Main ideas

- Rules of order are used to simplify the parliamentary procedure, not to complicate it.
- Everyone has the right to speak once if they wish, before anyone may speak a second time.
- Everyone has the right to know what is going on at all times.
- Only urgent matters may interrupt a speaker.
- The members discuss one thing at a time.
The basics of the rules

- One thing at a time. Only one main motion is allowed on the floor at a time, but there is a system to put that motion aside if something more urgent comes up.
- One person, too. Only one person may talk at a time.
- And only one time per meeting. The same motion (or practically the same) can not be made more than once per session; the only exception is if a member changes his or her mind.
- Enough of us have to be here to decide. The group determines the minimum number of people (called a quorum) that must be present to make a decision for the whole group.
The basics of the rules (cont’d)

- Protected even if absent. The rights of the members who are absent are protected.

- Vote requirements are based on members’ rights. The determination of what kind of vote is needed (such as majority, two-thirds, ...) is based on members’ rights. If an action gives rights to the members, it requires a majority vote to pass. If an action takes away rights from members, it requires a two-thirds vote to pass.

- Silence = consent. If a member chooses to abstain from voting, that member is giving his or her consent to the decision made by the group.

- Everybody is equal. All voting members have equal rights. The majority rules but the minority has the right to be heard and to attempt to change the minds of the majority.
How to do things ...

You want to bring up a new idea before the group.
- After recognition by the chair, present your motion.
- A second is required for the motion to go to the floor for consideration (and the motion now belongs to the body).

You want a motion just introduced by another person to be killed.
- Without recognition from the chair, state “I object to consideration.”
- This must be done before any debate.
- This requires no second, is not debatable and requires a 2/3 vote.

You want to change some of the wording in a motion under debate.
- After recognition by the chair, move to amend by adding words, striking words or striking and inserting words.
- This may be recognised as a friendly amendment by the person [or body] who proposed the original motion.
How to do things ...

You like the idea of a motion under debate, but you need to reword it beyond simple word changes.
- Move to substitute your motion for the original motion.
- If it is seconded, debate will continue on both motions and eventually the body will vote on which motion they prefer.

You feel the motion addresses two or more separate issues.
- Move to divide the question.

You want more study and/or investigation given to the idea under debate.
- Move to refer to a committee.
- Be specific as to the charge to the committee.

You want more time personally to study the proposal under debate.
- Move to postpone to a definite time or date.
You want to postpone a motion until some later time.
- Move to table the motion.
- The motion may be taken from the table after one item of business has been conducted.
- If the motion is not taken from the table by the end of the next meeting, it is dead.

You have heard enough debate.
- Move to call the question; this cuts off debate and brings the assembly to a vote on the pending question only.
- Requires a 2/3 vote.

You want to take a short break.
- Move to recess for a set period of time.

You want to end the meeting.
- Move to adjourn.
How to do things ...

You are unsure that the chair has announced the results of a vote correctly.
- Without being recognized, call for a “division of the house.”
- At this point a standing vote will be taken.

You are confused about a procedure being used and want clarification.
- Without recognition, call for “Point of Information” or “Point of Parliamentary Inquiry.”
- The chair will ask you to state your question and will attempt to clarify the situation.

You have changed your mind about something that was voted on earlier in the meeting for which you were on the winning side.
- Move to reconsider.
- If the majority agrees, the motion comes back on the floor as though the vote had not occurred.
Summary

You may INTERRUPT a speaker for these reasons only:
- to get information about business – point of information
- to get information about rules – parliamentary inquiry
- if you can't hear, safety reasons, comfort, etc. – question of privilege
- if you see a breach of the rules – point of order
- if you disagree with the chair's ruling – appeal

You may influence WHAT the members discuss:
- if you would like to discuss something – motion
- if you would like to change a motion under discussion – amend

You may influence HOW and WHEN the members discuss a motion:
- if you want to discuss the topic at another time – postpone or lay it on the table
- if you think people are ready to vote – call the question
