Did You Know

This month's edition is unveiling two of IEEE initiatives: IEEE Big Data and IEEE DataPort.

IEEE BigData

The IEEE Big Data Initiative strives to aggregate information about the various endeavors occurring worldwide in order to provide a community of professionals in industry, academia, and government working to solve the challenges associated with Big Data.

Members of IEEE Big Data Technical Community have access to extensive resources including publications, videos, articles, interviews, webinars, newsletters, workshops, and conferences.

Membership is free for both members and non-members of IEEE.

IEEE DataPort

IEEE DataPort™ is an easily accessible repository of datasets, including Big Data datasets, and data analysis tools.

IEEE DataPort™ is designed to make storage of dataset easier. Provides access to valuable datasets across a broad scope of topics, facilitate analysis of datasets, and retain referenceable data for reproducible research.

IEEE DataPort™ hosts all types of datasets and all data owners are encouraged to upload their datasets without cost. The goal is to provide a sustainable platform to all.
